"ARMS TO EXTINGUISH.

This is the day of the year when we commemorate the triumph of Liberty over Slavery. The day of the year when the American people rejoice in the thought that the great cause which they are fighting for is near its accomplishment. It is, therefore, fitting that we should take this opportunity to give expression to our feelings on this great subject. We believe that the cause of Liberty is right, and that it is our duty to support it with all our strength. We believe that the cause of Slavery is wrong, and that it is our duty to oppose it with all our power. We believe that the cause of freedom is just, and that it is our duty to defend it with all our resources. We believe that the cause of independence is great, and that it is our duty to promote it with all our efforts.

In conclusion, let us all remember that we are fighting for the cause of Liberty, and that we are doing our duty by supporting it with all our strength. Let us all remember that we are fighting for the cause of Slavery, and that we are doing our duty by opposing it with all our power. Let us all remember that we are fighting for the cause of freedom, and that we are doing our duty by defending it with all our resources. Let us all remember that we are fighting for the cause of independence, and that we are doing our duty by promoting it with all our efforts.
THE LIBERATOR

JULY 28.

HITCHINGS & DENNETT.

PAPER HANGINGS,